This document contains a few corrections detected in the dissertation document.

1. Page 85, figure 7.3 - The script generating the graph was not indexing a column and a line of the data. The fixed graph looks like the following:

2. Page 87, section 7.4.1: Problems - It was not stated how the implications detected in the previous test of the "Singulation Stress Test", section 7.3, affected the operation of the shelf. When a population of tags was placed in a zone affected by obstructions, a tag would occasionally miss read for a few seconds, creating a false detection of changes in the inventory.
